
Each point represents the average across all patients for a given cluster and stimulation condition